CROSSINGS, INC. RECOMMENDS ALPHA RESOURCES

Trusted Supplier Closing - Selects Preferred Alternative

Stevensville, Michigan, July 28, 2021 – Alpha Resources LLC, global leader in the manufacture of aftermarket consumables and reference materials for analyzers, has been chosen as the successor for the customers of Crossings, Inc. Crossings, Inc. is an independent manufacturer, processor, and distributor of consumables for CHN/protein analyzers based in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Tom Barclay, President of Crossings, is retiring, and Crossings is closing their doors. Prior to deciding to close, Tom was concerned about ensuring all his customers were take care of with the same quality focus and friendly US customer service they had come to expect. After an extensive search for a source Tom could feel confident could provide for future needs while also delivering similar value, Tom selected Alpha Resources.

“Crossings and Tom have been a mainstay of the industry for 25 years; he was a respected competitor. We appreciate the trust Tom is putting in our team,” stated Ken Mantej, Director of Operations for Alpha Resources. “We are working to make the transition as easy as possible for his customers. For example, Crossings’ part number have been added to Alpha’s website search feature for easy comparison. We are excited for this opportunity to work with Crossings’ customers.”

Tom noted, “Alpha has midwestern values; they offer quality product at fair prices and have a Michigan-based customer service team. They also hold extensive quality certifications. Couple all that with their expansive product line, and I know I’ve left my customers in good hands.”

Crossings will be winding down their business through a clearance sale over the next few weeks. As their product availability changes, Alpha is ready to support Crossings' customers with product and service. For Crossings customers with special needs or specific questions, Ken Mantei is available to personally address those concerns. He may be reached at 269-465-5559 x 215.
